PERCENTAGE OCCUPANCY OF PUBLIC COLD-STORAGE WAREHOUSES

END OF MONTH OCCUPANCY.

Commodity summary

held under

A February 1 record inventory of 6.6 billion pounds of agricultural products were/ refrigeration in the Nation's warehouses, according to the Crop Reporting Board. This is 8 percent more than stored a year earlier and 26 percent more than the February 1, 1957-61 average. Occupancy of public refrigerated storage space declined seasonally during January. Cooler space, at 58 percent of capacity, was 5 points lower and freezer occupancy, at 70 percent of capacity, was 4 points lower than on January 1. Orange concentrate holdings moved up to 49 million gallons by February 1, a gain of 9 million from the previous month. The gain was about equal to the average increase for the month but one-fourth less than a year earlier. Supplies of orange concentrate were about 62 percent larger than on February 1, 1962, and 87 percent more than average for the date. Frozen vegetable supplies were reduced by 103 million pounds to 1,180 million on February 1. For the date, these supplies are 5 percent more than last year and 48 percent more than the 1957-61 average. Holdings of all frozen vegetable items except mixed vegetables and french fries were lowered during January. The January disappearance was 103 million pounds compared with 107 million during January 1962 and 84 million, the average reduction for the month. Frozen fruits in storage on February 1 were down 56 million from a month earlier to 472 million pounds. These stocks are 13 million less than last year but 31 million more than average stocks for the date. Holdings of frozen apples showed a 5-million gain during January but holdings were lowered for all other fruit items. The principal reduction, 22 million pounds, was for strawberries, which were down to 137 million pounds on February 1, compared with 132 million stored a year earlier and 156 million, the average. Supplies of fresh apples totaled 25 million bushels of which 8 million were in controlled atmosphere (CA) rooms. This time last year, total holdings also were 25 million bushels and average stocks for February 1 are 24 million bushels. Supplies of butter were lowered seasonally during January and the 7 million pounds net withdrawal left 311 million pounds in storage, compared with 239 million stored on February 1, 1962 and 58 million, the 1957-61 average. American cheese holdings totaled 360 million pounds, 11 percent less than on February 1, 1962 but 20 percent more than average. Shell eggs in storage on February 1 were down to 62,000 cases after a 55,000 case reduction during January. Frozen egg supplies were reduced to 45 million pounds compared with 49 million a year earlier. The average for February 1 is 63 million pounds. Warehouse stocks of meats totaled 501 million pounds after a January net decline of 5 million pounds. February 1 stocks a year earlier were 482 million pounds and the average is 516 million pounds. Beef supplies were down 24 million pounds to 165 million but holdings of pork were up 18 million to 247 million pounds. Other meat stocks gained 1 million pounds to 88 million.

Cooler and freezer stock changes

Stock reductions during January lowered total product weight in both cooler and freezer rooms. A 595-million-pound decline in cooler products left 2.7 billion pounds on February 1 -- 3 percent more than a year earlier and 10 percent more than average. Seasonal withdrawals of fresh fruits, vegetables, eggs, and dairy products more than offset gains in stocks of beef, pork, and canned meats. February 1 freezer stocks of 3.9 billion pounds were down slightly from a month earlier but 405 million more than for the date a year ago. January stock build-ups of cream, juices, and pork were less than the withdrawals of butter, eggs, poultry, fruits, vegetables, beef, veal, lamb and mutton, and the freezer weight was lowered by 101 million pounds. This January decline exceeded both that in 1962 and the average.

Storage occupancy in public warehouses

Utilization of both cooler and freezer space in public warehouses declined during January. Cooler rooms were at a 58 percent level of occupancy on February 1, down 5 points from the previous month, while freezer occupancy, at 70 percent, was down 4 points. For this time of year, cooler occupancy was 5 points above the 1957-61 average and 4 points above last year's level. Freezer occupancy was 2-points above average for the date, but 5-points under the occupancy a year earlier.

Dairy and dairy products

Warehouse stocks of butter declined 7 million pounds during January to 311 million on February 1. This is the second highest February 1 inventory on record, exceeded only by the February 1, 1955 holdings of 342 million. A year ago at this time, butter stocks were 239 million pounds. The 5-year February 1 average is 58 million pounds. Government-owned butter on February 1 totaled 276 million pounds, leaving 35 million in commercial channels compared with 33 million a year earlier. Holdings of American cheese totaled 360 million pounds, a decrease of 24 million pounds from January 1. Holdings were 11 percent below February 1 a year ago but 20 percent above average. Government holdings of American cheese totaled 63 million pounds, a decline of 14 million pounds during January.

Juices, fruits and vegetables

Orange concentrate stocks increased 9 million gallons during January, one-fourth less than a year ago but about average for the month. Stocks were 49 million gallons compared with 30 million on February 1, 1962, and 26 million, the average for the date. Warehouse holdings of frozen vegetables declined 8 percent during January to 1,180 million pounds on February 1. Except for increases in the stocks of mixed vegetables and french fries, holdings of all the other vegetable items were lowered seasonally. February 1 stocks of frozen vegetables were the largest ever for the date and compare with 1,121 million pounds in storage last year and the 798 million pound average. A greater than average January reduction in frozen fruit stocks, 56 million pounds, left 472 million in storage on February 1. The January reduction exceeded last year's by 9 million pounds and the average by 20 million. Supplies were 3 percent less than a year earlier but 7 percent more than average for the date. Holdings of all fruits, except apples, were lower than the month previous. The major reductions were in stocks of strawberries, cherries, and peaches. February 1 fresh apple holdings, including controlled atmosphere stocks, totaled 25 million bushels -- about the same as a year earlier but 1 million more than average for the date. The net disappearance of 10 million bushels during January was slightly larger than both last year and the average. Apples in controlled atmosphere space (CA) totaled 8.3 million bushels on February 1.

Poultry and poultry products

Holdings of frozen poultry products in storage on February 1 totaled 326 million pounds. Net withdrawals of 9 million pounds were average for this time of year but were far below the 27-million-pound decline a year earlier. Total poultry stocks were 19 percent below the record February 1 holdings of a year earlier but 4 percent above average. Turkey stocks totaled 200 million pounds, a decline of 3 million pounds during January. This inventory is 20 percent below the February 1 record set last year, but 21 percent above average. Frozen egg supplies totaled 45 million pounds, a drop of 16 million pounds during January compared with a 12-million-pound reduction during January 1962 and the 5-year average January decline of 9 million pounds. Shell egg holdings on February 1 totaled 62,000 cases. This time last year, stocks were 29,000 cases, while the average for the date is 188,000 cases.

Meat and meat products

Warehouse holdings of meat and meat products totaled 501 million pounds on February 1, down 5 million from a month earlier, compared with a decline of 4 million pounds during January last year. However, the average January change is an increase of 28 million pounds. Total stocks of meats were 4 percent above February 1, 1962, but 3 percent smaller than average. Beef holdings, at 165 million pounds, were down 24 million pounds, compared with a 16-million-pound decline during January 1962 and the average decrease of 7 million pounds. Warehouse holdings of total pork increased 18 million pounds, compared with a gain of 9 million during January 1962 and the average increase of 30 million. Stocks of pork were 18 percent above a year earlier, but 2 percent below the 5-year February 1 average.
